

Efthimios Gkelis
Software Engineer

Since 2013, Software Engineering, IT Administration

Efthimios is one of the newest crew members and has experience for more than six years in web development using Java, PHP, HTML5 and SQL. One of his duties is developing mobile software applications, mainly for the Android platform. Lately, he has assumed the role of the company's IT administrator making him one of the key persons for the company's smooth operation.

He loves traveling and in his free time he likes to engage with sport activities.